Pippa Persistence
Keep on Persisting

We would like to introduce you to: PIPPA PERSISTENCE who keeps on PERSISTING. Persistence is the ability to continue to get up no matter how many times you've been knocked down. It requires will power, flexibility, strength of character, determination and a desire to succeed at all costs.

5 things you can say to encourage persistence:

- ✓ "Look at all of your hard work."
- ✓ "Good for you, you didn't give up."
- ✓ "The more you practice, the better you get."
- ✓ "You did that even though it wasn't easy or fun."
- ✓ "That was hard, but look how easy you made it by trying."

BRENTON'S BLOG

those important points to consider in that relationship.

So, start with TRUST, the foundation of every relationship. TRUST begins in infancy, when your baby learns whether she can depend on you to pick her up when she needs you. By the time babies are a year old, researchers can assess whether babies are "securely attached" to their parents, which basically means the baby TRUSTS that his parents can be depended on to meet his emotional and physical needs.

Over time, we EARN our children's TRUST in other ways: following through on the promise to play a game with them later, not breaking a confidence, picking them up on time.

At the same time, we extend our TRUST to them by expecting the best from them and believing in their fundamental goodness and potential. We TRUST in the power of human development to help our child grow, learn and mature.

We TRUST that although our child may act like a child today, he or she is always developing into a more mature person. We TRUST that no matter what he or she does, there is always the potential for positive change.

TRUST does not mean blindly believing what your teenager tells you. TRUST means not giving up on your child, no matter what he or she does. TRUST means never walking away from the relationship in frustration, because you TRUST that she needs you and that you will find a way to work things out.

Till next time

CLASSROOM TALK

SAPSASA Netball

Yesterday Sarah, Taylor and Zali went to the Berri netball courts to participate in SAPSASA netball. Their team was made up of Kingston, Cobdogla, St Alberts and Moorook girls.

Our first game was at 9:45 and we versed St Joe's Barmera/Glossop and we won.

Next we played Morgan and we won again, the scores for that match were 22-3 our way. Then we competed against Cobdogla and we lost by a few goals. After that we versed Waikerie Lutheran and we lost by two goals. So next we versed St Joe's Barmera/Glossop again to see if we place 3rd or 4th and we placed 3rd!

The winners for the small schools were Cobdogla, in second place was Waikerie Lutheran, then Moorook placed 3rd. St Joe's Barmera came in at 4th and Morgan was in last place.

Over all we enjoyed the day a lot and it was fun. Zali and Sarah got chosen to try out for the Riverland SAPSASA team who will be going to Adelaide. The tryouts will be next week and then they will find out if they get in.

SAPSASA Football

Yesterday I went to SAPSASA Football in Berri. There were five teams competing in the carnival and they were Barmera, Renmark, Loxton, Berri & Waikerie. Waikerie won the carnival overall & Barmera came second. Rueben from Waikerie won the best player of the day over all. It was a good day to play football.

STEM EXPERIMENTS

In STEM we had to work in groups to make a solar oven that we used to cook a certain type of food. Anise, Abbie and Ashlen & I decided to make Smores in our oven. The main requirement was that ALL ovens had to be solar powered, hence the name of the lesson "Solar Ovens". Afterwards we had to make a poster to show how things did and did not work. The only thing that worked in my group was that the chocolate in the Smores melted.

BY SOFIE

We had to make solar ovens that were able to cook food like pizza. Most people cooked meat but some groups cooked things like Smores or potatoes. Some worked and some of them didn't. We then had to make a poster of our results.
